Everybody's an artist this Saturday

Community art project counts on help from West Sacramento citizens

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

Help make some art.

You're invited to participate in West Sacramento's "Grow Yolo Mandala," a community art project expected to debut at the local farmers market on June 6. The art project will be a ground-level display that shows off the wide variety of agriculture and crops in the area, arranging various display pieces in a mesh of geometry.

The artistic team of Paula Wenzl Bellacera of West Sacramento and Taylor Gutermute of Sacramento were selected by YoloArts to spearhead the project. Funding comes from the James Irvine Foundation.

The master design for the art project includes "imagery referencing local agriculture such as seasonal crops, lunar cycles, compass directions, fields, furrows, waterways, and much more," say the artists.

The artists have been to a number of area farms to collect materials for the art project, and they have talked to Yolo County's ag commissioner, John Young, about what gets planted locally, and when.

"We've been to the Yolo Wool Mill (in Woodland), and we've got a lot of their byproducts to use," Bellacera told the News-Ledger. "We've got grapevines from Bogle Winery, we've got things we're going to weave. Some of the smaller items, like barley and seeds, will be glued in place."

Individual community members will get a chance to decorate "seed packets" that will be incorporated into the larger display.

"Everybody will have the opportunity to take one of these seed packets and draw one of the local crops," she said. "Once we get all these parts made by the community, it will be our aesthetic and artistic challenge to create the whole mandala."

According to the organizers, a "mandala" is a "visual symbol of the universe that represents unity and harmony." Creating one has a community art project helps to stress the interconnectedness of the citizens and their connection to land. It also stresses the cycle of agricultural life – and the impermanence of all life, said Bellacera.

The finished "mandala" will go up for display at this year's first West Sacramento Farmers Market on June 6. (The local chamber of commerce is working on a slightly different location for the market this year, but it will again be on West Capitol Avenue near city hall.)

Taylor Gutermute (left) and West Sacramento's Paula Wenzl Bellacera do some prep work on the 'Grow Yolo Mandala.' The community art project they are spearheading wants some volunteers this Saturday.

The mandala will remain standing in public for about a month before it finishes its own cycle of life.

Are the artists worried about vandalism during the few weeks it stands on West Capitol?

"We spoke to YoloArts about that," said Bellacera. "They said, 'you know, it's public art. Whatever happens will be okay.'"

Interested people can show up to help the project at 3 p.m. on Saturday at the library, 1212 Merkley Avenue.

Truck driver found pinned under his still-running truck

West Sacramento police say they're investigating the death of a truck driver Wednesday morning, April 10, at a business on the 3000-block of Evergreen Avenue.

Police, firefighters and CHP officers responded to the scene at about 11 a.m. on April 10.

"They found a semi-tractor, which appeared to have crashed through a chain link fence of the business and stopped at the side of I-80, just west of the Harbor Blvd. entrance," said a press statement from Lieutenant Tod Sockman of the

Layoffs at West Sac tech plant

A Reed Avenue-area tech plant will lay off 320 people this year.

Xyratex International, Inc., is a data management company with a manufacturing and assemblly plant on Embarcadero Drive, West Sacramento. The company is downsizing and moving some operations to Mexico, to save costs and in response to the loss of a major client, say local media reports.

According to one such report, the company has been downsizing for five years since peaking at 600 employees at the site.

County employment officials are contacting workers who wll be laid off this year. Some Xyratex staff will remain in West Sacramento after the manufacturing jobs move to Guadalajara.

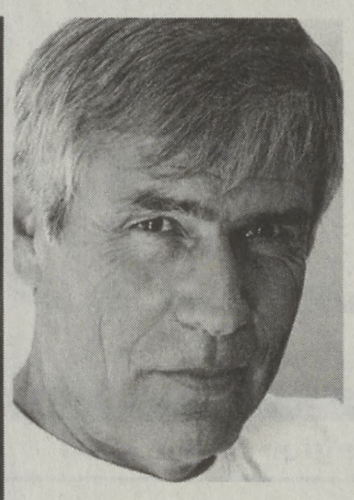
How West Sac got its sketchy reputation

Note: The other day, a very nice lady who had just moved to West Sacramento came into the News-Ledger office to get a subscription. She said that she and her husband move around a lot because of his work and when they move to a new city, the first thing they always do is get a subscription to the local newspaper, since that is the best way to find out what is going on around town. Then, with a kind of apologetic expression on her face, she asked me why West Sacramento seems to have such a poor reputation, especially since she loves all her new neighbors.

Anyway, by the time our conversation had concluded, I was reminded of the following column, which was penned more than 15 years ago:

My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

A couple of weeks ago, my 21-year-old daughter and her best friend (I'll call her Amy) decided to go to one of those trendy Christmas parties that the in-crowd attends this time of year. All they told me before they left was that the party was going to be held in a very exclusive neighborhood in Rocklin and that they had heard the place was going to be crawling with really cute guys with good jobs and lots of money.

"Feel free to marry one of them and move out on your own!" I called out to my daughter as she and Amy, both of whom were dressed to impress, hurried out my front door.

Being the concerned (nosy, actually) father I am, I waited up until way past my bedtime to hear all the juicy details, but unfortunately, I fell asleep in the middle of an old Gary Cooper movie ("Sergeant York") and had to wait until the next day to begin the debriefing.

"So," I said to both of them at breakfast (Amy had spent the night), "how did the party go?"

"Well," said my daughter, "at least everything went pretty well for the first couple of hours."

"Then what happened?" I asked with interest.

"Your big-mouth daughter went and blew our cover, that's what happened," said Amy, which made my daughter smile.

"Blew your cover?" I asked.

"That's right," said Amy. "Go on, Carrie, tell your dad how you screwed up the whole night big time."

"All I did," mumbled Carrie apologetically, "was kinda mention where we were from."

"What?" I asked, still a little confused.

"Well," explained my daughter, "this really cute guy asked me where I lived, and I went ahead and told him I was from West Sacramento."

"She didn't just tell one person," quickly corrected Amy, "she told a whole group of guys, and each one of them happened to be a babe, too."

"Oh," I said with compassion, having often myself been subjected to that look of horror (actually, I think it's a mixture of pity and revulsion) in the eyes of an otherwise normal person when informed they are talking to a real live West Sacramentan. "Then what happened?"

"Well," answered my daughter, "let's just say I'm not going to be getting married to a rich guy from Rocklin and be moving out of the house any time soon."

"You know," said Amy, "I actually think those poor guys at the party got scared of us when Carrie told them we were from West Sacramento."

"Yeah," said Carrie to me, "and just what is that all about, anyway? I mean, just exactly what did your generation do to make everyone on the other side of the river scared to death of anybody who lives in West Sacramento?"

"My generation?" I asked with as much indignation as I could muster up. "What's my generation got to do with it?"

"Admit it," said Amy matter-of-factly, "you were all a bunch of hoodlums."

"Hey," I said with conviction, "I was not a hoodlum! Now I may have had a few friends who were hoodlums, but with the possible exception of this one guy who was absolutely determined to move to New York City and become a Mafia hit-man once he graduated from James Marshall, they were actually all very nice."

"I'm serious," said my daughter, "just how did West Sacramento's big bad reputation get started anyway? Why are so many people from Sacramento and Davis scared to even drive through here?"

"Well," I said, "if you girls really want to know the truth, to my knowledge, it all began with the choice of one's footwear."

"Footwear?" asked my daughter. "You mean shoes?"

"That's right," I tried to explain. "You see, back in the 1950s and 1960s, there were only two kinds of teenagers, those who wore hard black shoes, the `hards, and those who wore white tennis shoes, the `frats'."

"What?" asked Amy, beginning to laugh.

"And almost all of the guys who attended Sacramento high schools back then," I continued, "wore these really ugly white tennis shoes. They also wore white socks and pants that looked like they were going to a flood, kinda like they belonged in a fraternity, thus the nickname `frats'. On the other hand, if you were from West Sacramento, you proudly wore shiny black hard shoes, and I'm not talking just any old hard shoes, either. They had to be very, very pointed, and if your toes weren't crying out in agony, then your shoes weren't hard and pointed enough. Anyway, for reasons that I guess no one back then ever really fully understood, whenever a `hard' ran into a `frat', there was usually a fight. And as you might expect, the guys from West Sacramento, wearing the hard pointed shoes, usually won."

"So," said my daughter, "then you really were all a bunch of hoodlums?"

"Absolutely not!" I said. "In fact, most of the so-called hoodlums I knew grew up to be fine, upstanding citizens, like the one that married his James Marshall High School sweetheart who now manages a big old fancy bank and is still making sure her old West Sac Jack stays out of trouble."

"Hey, wait a minute," said Amy, looking over at Carrie, "my mom manages a big old fancy bank."

"Is that right?" I said.

'Anyway, for reasons that I guess no one back then ever really fully understood, whenever a `hard' ran into a `frat', there was usually a fight. . .'

Library amnesty: 'read off your fines'

From Beth Gabor
County of Yolo

The Yolo County Library joins libraries in schools, campuses and communities nationwide in celebrating National Library Week, April 14-20, a time to highlight the value of libraries, librarians and library workers. As part of the celebration, each branch will conduct the annual "Read Off Your Fines" campaign, and a survey seeking community feedback on library programs and services will be posted on www.yolocountylibrary.org.

The Read Off Your Fines campaign targets children and young adult library card holders, age five to 18, who are able to read by themselves and who owe overdue fines. Youth will earn a $1.00 credit for each 15 minutes spent reading a book of their choice in the library. The goal of the campaign is to encourage youth who have been blocked from checking out library materials to once again be able to return and take advantage of the many resources available at the library.

"The Read Off Your Fines program is an opportunity for the library to encourage young people to return to the library and read for fun to eliminate their fines," said Yolo County Librarian Patty Wong in a press release. "This is your library; don't miss out on any of our many services."

In 2012, over 75,000 registered patrons visited the eight Yolo County Library branches, borrowed over 1,100,000 books, music, films and other materials, and accessed online resources via the library computers over 90,000 times.

During National Library Week, the Yolo County Library will be conducting a survey about the services provided, which can be found on www.yolocountylibrary.org, along with other general information.

To receive regular updates on Yolo County Library programs and services, "like" the library on Facebook at www.facebook.com/yolocountylibrary.org.

GUEST COMMENTARY:

Donate that old car, support local 'Habitat'

From Habitat for Humanity, Yolo County

To celebrate Earth Day 2013, Habitat for Humanity in Yolo County is pushing to recycle used cars and other vehicles to help build hope and homes in partnership with low-income families in Yolo County.

Throughout the month of April, the Habitat for Humanity Cars for Homes program is celebrating its "Every Day is Earth Day" initiative. The goal is to encourage people to donate their used cars, trucks, RVs, boats and other vehicles to help raise funds for Habitat Yolo and other Habitat affiliates throughout the country.

"Cars for Homes is really a win-win-win program," explained Roger Ashton, the executive director of Habitat Yolo. "It gets old clunkers out of our neighborhoods and off the streets. It generates revenue so we can serve more families in Yolo County. And it helps those families build futures filled with dignity and pride. We really believe every day should be Earth Day in Yolo County."

The Habitat for Humanity Cars for Homes program generates funding from the sale of used cars, trucks, and other vehicles. Those funds are distributed to local Habitat affiliates to help build and renovate affordable homes in partnership with low-income families. Since it started, more than 40,000 vehicles have been donated to the program nationally. Habitat Yolo has received almost $25,000 just from vehi-

April 12, 12:15 a.m.

Two officers responded to a report of disorderly conduct on private property on Drew Street.

A caller had reported a man "acting strangely and jumping fences into neighboring yards." They approached a 28-year old man at the scene, and as they did, he walked onto a front porch and put something into a planter. An officer retrieved a meth pipe and a baggie with a crystal-like substance that later tested positive as methamphetamine. During a search of the man's person, they also found a cigarette pack in his pants pocket – and the pack held another baggie of meth.

The resident of the house confirmed the man did not have permission to be on the property. The subject was arrested.

April 13, 5:41 a.m.

Police responded to a disturbance on the 800-block of Harbor. Contacting a 30-year old woman at the scene, they found she was a wanted "parolee at large" and placed her under arrest.

The woman "fell to the ground and hit her head no less than three times," then "regained her composure" and went to jail.

April 13, 9:22 p.m.

Police responded to the report of an "aggressive panhandler" on the 1200-block of West Capitol. A records check of the woman indicated she had an arrest warrant. She went to jail.

April 14, 7:15 p.m.

At an apartment complex on the 600-block of West Capitol, and officer spotted a 31-year old woman he knew to have a felony warrant.

"When she saw me, she ran inside and started crying," reported the officer. The woman was arrested without incident.

Davis, California

The public is invited to spring open house at the California Raptor Center (CRC) on Saturday, May 4.. Admission to the open house and "hawk walk" are free.

Donations are welcome.

The open house will last from 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., and there will be special presentations given at 10:00 a.m and noon. Visitors are invited to join our Hawk Walk which starts at 8 a.m. at the CRC gate (bring binoculars).

CRC cares for injured raptors (eagles, hawks, vultures and owls), rehabilitating and releasing them back to the wild whenever possible. Some of the birds that cannot be released are trained to take part in our education program.

The special presentations wat the open house will demonstrate fascinating features of raptor biology and ecology, and visitors will be able to see many non-releasable raptors housed in display cages as well as birds out on the glove (including "Mikey," the Red Shouldered Hawk and "Spar," the American Kestrel, who have both been featured with the late Huell Howser on public television). The CRC's onsite museum will be open, and T-shirts and other CRC souvenirs will be for sale.

Directions: From Interstate 80, take the UC Davis exit. Turn south on Old David Road heading away from the main campus. Cross the railroad tracks and keep going to the Putah Creek Bridge where there is a low-profile blue and gold California Raptor Center sign. Do not cross the bridge. Instead, turn left onto the paved levee road and follow it for one block until it dips down off the levee. Then turn right into the CRC parking lot.

Parking is free. For a map visit our Web site at www.vetmed.ucdavis.edu/calraptor. Do not use GPS: it directs you to the wrong place.

COUCH THEATER DVD PREVIEWS

PICKS OF THE WEEK

"Silver Linings Playbook" (R) -- Pat (Bradley Cooper) is a man with some complicated issues. He gets worked up over little things, he's recently been released from a mental institution, he lives with his parents (Robert De Niro and Jacki Weaver), and he believes he will reunite with his estranged wife any day now. While trying to figure out life, he meets Tiffany (Jennifer Lawrence), a similarly neurotic young woman. Thus begins an unconventional and well-crafted love story.

Really. It's dramatic and funny and romantic and not too trite in any way. We all know the two attractive basketcases will fall in love, but this movie handles it so well that you will actually care. Cooper's performance shows he can do more than "The Hangover." Lawrence won an Oscar for her performance, and De Niro owns his supporting role.

"The Guilt Trip" (PG-13) -- This road trip comedy doesn't smash expectations, but doesn't let down, either. Andy (Seth Rogen) is a young, single guy about to promote his new invention -- an eco-friendly cleaning product. Out of sheepish guilt, he invites his widowed mother, Joyce (Barbra Streisand), to join him -- in the hope that he can help her reconnect with an old flame, or just make her happy for a bit.

The comedy is more for the Streisand crowd than Rogen fans. Many of their exchanges are improvised, and this pays off in on-screen chemistry. You can really see these two as mother and son -- in a goofy, Hollywood kinda way. The movie is short, mildly charming and offers some easy chuckles along the way.

"Broken City" (R) -- In a city in disrepair, a lone ex-cop (Mark Wahlberg) begins to untangle a web of intrigue and corruption that goes all the way up to the mayor (Russell Crowe). Normally, I give noir films a pass for convoluted plots and silly twists of fate that attack loose ends. "Broken City" gets no mercy. It's boring. Even Wahlberg looks bored. The loose ends are just forgotten, and in the final act, it is revealed that many different characters were

"LIFE With the Beatles: Inside Beatlemania" by their Official Photographer, Robert Whitaker (Life Books, $39.95) Reviewed by Larry Cox

The impact of the Beatles cannot be overstated. John Lennon, Paul McCartney, George Harrison and Ringo Starr not only helped redefine popular music, they reconfigured the popular culture of the 1960s and beyond.

Shortly after the band formed, manager Brian Epstein hired fellow Englishman Bob Whitaker to be the group's official photographer. It was a wise choice, since Whitaker had a keen eye for framing a

From Top to Bottom

The carrot is a very versatile vegetable. It can be used as a starter, main course, dessert or just as a snack. Carrots can be eaten raw or cooked in almost any manner imaginable.

Carrots help to maintain acidic and alkaline properties in the system. They provide important vitamins for eyes, skin, bones, heart and muscle health. Carrots also can act as a blood purifier, a diuretic and help to relieve flatulence or colic. The mineral content in carrots lie very close to the skin and should not be peeled or scraped off.

When selecting carrots, make sure that they are a deep, rich color. The deeper the carrot's color, the more beta-carotene it contains. If you're buying the carrots with the leaves, select ones that they are moist and a bright green. Remove the carrot greenery as soon as possible because it robs the roots of moisture and vitamins. You can eat the green tops in a salad or use them similar to the way that you'd use fresh herbs to sprinkle on a dish.

Carrots that are less than 8-inches long and relatively uniform in shape and size are the best selection. Carrots should not bend when gently tested. They also should be well-shaped, firm and smooth with no cracks. They should not look wilted. When grated, carrots should be quite juicy.

Carrots are often sold with the tops removed. To judge the freshness, check the top of the carrot for darkening. Whether loose or in plastic bags, avoid carrots with green shoots sprouting out (not to be confused with their green tops) yellowed tips, soft spots or withering, as these are a sign of age. Carrots that have an excessive amount of new sprouts or leaves could have large or woody cores. Also avoid carrots with large green areas at or near their tops. This indicates sunburn damage.

Before storing carrots, remove their green tops, rinse, drain and put the carrots in plastic bags. Store them in the coldest part of the refrigerator with the highest humidity, they'll last several months this way. To keep the carrots crisp and colorful, add a little bit of water in the bottom of the plastic storage bag; this will keep the carrots hydrated. Carrots should be stored away from fruits such as apples, peaches and pears that release ethylene gas, which causes carrots to become bitter.

If carrots have become limp or dehydrated, cut off one of the ends and place the carrots, cut side down, in a bowl of ice water for about half an hour, to recrisp them. The coarse, inner core of older carrots should be removed.

This Herb Carrot and Mushroom Loaf is an unusual way to serve carrots. It's a great side dish with roasted meats or fish, and makes a delicious main course for vegetarians.

HERB CARROT AND WILD MUSHROOM LOAF

1/4 cup butter, plus 3 tablespoons for buttering pan and topping loaf
1 cup chopped onions
2 cloves garlic, minced
4 1/2 cups grated carrots
2 cups sliced, wild mushrooms (cremini, shiitake, porcini or Portobello)
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 1/2 tablespoons Italian seasoning
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
5 large eggs, lightly mixed
1 1/2 cups fresh, whole-wheat breadcrumbs
1 cup grated cheddar cheese

1. Preheat oven to 350 F.

2. In a large skillet, melt butter over medium-high heat. Add onions and cook for 3 to 5 minutes until golden. Add garlic and cook for 1 to 2 minutes. Add carrots, mushrooms, celery, Italian seasoning, salt and pepper. Saute until vegetables are soft, about 5 minutes.

3. Pour carrot mixture into a large bowl. Add eggs to the bowl, and 1 cup of breadcrumbs and 1/2 cup of the cheese. Reserve remainder of breadcrumbs and cheese to sprinkle on the top of loaf. Mix the ingredients until well combined.

4. Spread the 2 tablespoons of the butter on the bottom and sides of a 9 x 5 inch, oblong baking pan. Spread the carrot mixture into the pan. Sprinkle with remaining cheese and breadcrumbs. Cover with foil and bake for 30 minutes. Remove foil, dot with the remaining tablespoon of butter, and bake for 5 to 7 minutes until brown on top. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

The undersigned caused said Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the county where the real property is located. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 714-730-2727 for information regarding the trustee's sale, or visit this Internet Web site www.lpsasap.com for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case 20111079562948. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE TS No. 10-0152406 Doc ID #00087084577520O5N Title Order No. 100709539 Investor/Insurer No. 870845775 APN No. 14-294-018 YOU ARE IN DEFAULT UNDER A DEED OF TRUST, DATED 09/27/2004. UNLESS YOU TAKE ACTION TO PROTECT YOUR PROPERTY, IT MAY BE SOLD AT A PUBLIC SALE. IF YOU NEED AN EXPLANATION OF THE NATURE OF THE PROCEEDING AGAINST YOU, YOU SHOULD CONTACT A LAWYER. Notice is hereby given that RECONTRUST COMPANY, N.A., as duly appointed trustee pursuant to the Deed of Trust executed by ADRIANA GUZMAN AND JOSE G. LOPEZ, dated 09/27/2004 and recorded 10/13/2004, as Instrument No. 2004-0046618-00, in Book N/A, Page N/A, of Official Records in the office of the County Recorder of Yolo County, State of California, will sell on 05/15/2013 at 12:00PM, At the rear (North) entrance to the City Hall Building, 1110 West Capitol Avenue, West Sacramento, CA 95691 at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash or check as described below, payable in full at time of sale, all right, title, and interest conveyed to and now held by it under said Deed of Trust, in the property situated in said County and State and as more fully described in the above referenced Deed of Trust. The street address and other common designation, if any, of the real property described above is purported to be: 1012 RICH STREET, WEST SACRAMENTO, CA, 95605. The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address and other common designation, if any, shown herein. The total amount of the unpaid balance with interest thereon of the obligation secured by the property to be sold plus reasonable estimated costs, expenses and advances at the time of the initial publication of the Notice of Sale is $109,495.13. It is possible that at the time of sale the opening bid may be less than the total indebtedness due. In addition to cash, the Trustee will accept cashier's checks drawn on a state or national bank, a check drawn by a state or federal credit union, or a check drawn by a state or federal savings and loan association, savings association, or savings bank specified in Section 5102 of the Financial Code and authorized to do business in this state. Said sale will be made, in an "AS IS" condition, but without covenant or warranty, express or implied, regarding title, possession or encumbrances, to satisfy the indebtedness secured by said Deed of Trust, advances thereunder, with interest as provided, and the unpaid principal of the Note secured by said Deed of Trust with interest thereon as provided in said Note, plus fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on a property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. KILLED from front page

West Sacramento Police Department. "Pinned under the tractor, which was still running, the victim was found and pronounced dead at the scene. "

The man was identified by the Yolo County Coroner's office as 36-year old Vitali Dobic. West Sacramento police say he was from Rancho Cordova; the Yolo County Coroner's office lists him as a Sacramento-area resident.

Dobic was an employee of the business, and he had been killed by the vehicle assigned to him at work, said Lt. Sockman.

An autopsy is planned, reported Mark Persons of the Yolo County Coroner's office.

"The circumstances are still unknown (as to) how the tractor ran over the victim," said Sockman. "There were no other persons located at the scene."

The apparent accident is under investigation.

RCHS tennis: perfect so far

From River City High School

Sandwiched between two more Sierra Valley Conference (SVC) wins, the River City High School Tennis Team defeated longtime nemesis Escalon 7 to 2 last week. The three victories improved the Raiders' 2013 record to 9 and 0 in the SVC and 18-0 overall.

After downing Liberty Ranch 8 to 1 early in the week, RC welcomed the Trans Valley League leaders from Escalon, a team the Raiders lost to twice in 2012, once in the regular season and again in the Final Four of the Sac-Joaquin Section Division III team playoffs. This time around, the host Raiders got wins from top singles players Edward Xu and Cindy Oseguera and then swept all five doubles matches. Xu won a marathon at #1 boys singles, 3-6,6-3,(10-8), while Oseguera frustrated her opponent with a 6-2,6-3 win at #1 girls singles.

In doubles, the girls pairs of Sarah Yang and Sonia Bola (6-1,6-3 at #1) and Nicole Melido and Julia Quenga (6-2,6-3 at #2) won relatively easily, but their teammates were pushed to the limit. Michael Lee and Matthew Tagupa won at #1 boys doubles 7-6(7),7-6(4), Amran Khan and Akshay Prabhakar took #2 boys doubles 7-6(7),5-7,(10-6), and Lina Vang and Phillip Dinh pulled out a 6-4,5-7,(11-9) win in mixed.

RC Coach Dave Brooks was understandably pleased with the day's outcome. "A huge win for us, especially after losing twice to them last season. All of these tiebreaks and close matches and the kids really fought hard to get the victory. It's always a tough match with Escalon, we've played them 22 times now over the years, and each school has won 11. We could definitely see them again next month in the Section team playoffs."

The week ended with a 9 to 0 shutout at Galt which featured the varsity debut of three younger Raiders. Freshman Jacob Aguilar partnered with veteran Alan Tern to win 6-2,6-1 at #2 boys doubles and sophomores Jessica Ngo and Beatrice Bui won 6-0,6-2 at #2 girls doubles.

Next up for RC is a match at Vista del Lago of Folsom tomorrow, a trip to the annual Quincy Invitational tournament on Friday and Saturday, and the SVC regular season finale at Cosumnes Oaks in Elk Grove next Tuesday.

shot. He took thousands of photographs as he documented John, Paul, George and Ringo in their day-to-day activities. His photographs were different from many of the others that were taken because he not only understood the Beatles, he had a sense of what made them different, exciting and charismatic. His images chronicled the very essence of the Beatles.

Whitaker was collaborating with the editors of Life just before his death in England in the autumn of 2011. Despite his absence, work to complete the project continued. The result is not just a treasure trove of images, but also of Bob's reminiscences of the Beatles as he knew them.

Because Whitaker was so intimately involved with the group, the photos reflect the remarkable chemistry of the four musicians, preserving even the tensions and occasional difficulties. Although some of the images will be familiar, others will not. In fact, many of the photographs are appearing in print for the first time.

"LIFE With the Beatles" begins with an explanation of the mania that surrounded the group. The main portion of the book is divided into three important years: 1964, 1965 and 1966.

For older readers, the pictures and well-crafted text certainly will trigger memories. For others, it will explain how four talented young men from Liverpool changed popular culture and allowed us to see and experience things in a fresh, new way.

secret best friends the whole time. That's just cheating.

"Not Fade Away" (R) -- David Chase, the director of TV's "The Sopranos," looks back at life in 1960s New Jersey. Douglas (John Magaro) is a teenager in the suburbs just getting tuned into the rock music. His father, Pat (James Gandolfini), doesn't quite get it. Pat never dared give real thought to leaving his hometown, and now his son has long hair, plays covers of British music and seems like he enjoys the idea of "endless possibilities." While the story isn't the most moving, the attention to detail will grab you. Everything fits, right down to the creative differences in Douglas' garage band.

hicles donated in Yolo County. "That's a key point to remember," reiterated Ashton. "If you donate a vehicle in Yolo County, the money received from that donation stays in Yolo County."

"Almost 25 percent of the vehicles we receive each year are recycled, so donating idle cars not only helps Habitat build homes but also gets gas guzzlers off the road," said Marcia Rundle, director of the Habitat Cars for Homes program. "Donating a vehicle is a hassle-free way for anyone to support their local Habitat affiliate while being good stewards of the environment."

It's easy to donate. Just call 1-877-277-HFHI (4344) or go online to CarsforHomes.com. You'll be asked for contact information, and title and vehicle information. When the donation is accepted, Cars for Homes will tow the vehicle away—free of charge. Donors receive an acknowledgement letter for the donation and should check with the Internal Revenue Service or their tax advisor for information about the tax deductibility of their donation.

Language charter school will make case to Yolo Co.

A proposed charter West Sacramento charter school will appeal to the Yolo County Board of Education after being denied a charter by the school board of the Washington Unified School District.

The staff of Washington Unified School District opined that the school was unlikely to succeed partly due to a lack of understanding of school finance. The school has appealed.

The Northern California Language Academies project will be on the agenda for 3:35 p.m. on Tuesday, April 23, at the county office of education, 1280 Santa Anita Court #120 in Woodland.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE TS No. 12-0071137 Title Order No. 120283573 APN No. 014-075-018 YOU ARE IN DEFAULT UNDER A DEED OF TRUST, DATED 06/16/2006. UNLESS YOU TAKE ACTION TO PROTECT YOUR PROPERTY, IT MAY BE SOLD AT A PUBLIC SALE. IF YOU NEED AN EXPLANATION OF THE NATURE OF THE PROCEEDING AGAINST YOU, YOU SHOULD CONTACT A LAWYER. Notice is hereby given that RECONTRUST COMPANY, N.A., as duly appointed trustee pursuant to the Deed of Trust executed by DANIEL MACIAS, AND DEBORAH B MACIAS, HUSBAND AND WIFE AS JOINT TENANTS, dated 06/16/2006 and recorded 6/21/2006, as Instrument No. 2006-0024240-00, in Book N/A, Page N/A, of Official Records in the office of the County Recorder of Yolo County, State of California, will sell on 05/15/2013 at 10:00AM, At the North entrance to the City Hall, 1110 West Capital , West Sacramento, Yolo County, CA at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash or check as described below, payable in full at time of sale, all right, title, and interest conveyed to and now held by it under said Deed of Trust, in the property situated in said County and State and as more fully described in the above referenced Deed of Trust. The street address and other common designation, if any, of the real property described above is purported to be: 732 YOLO ST, WEST SACRAMENTO, CA, 956051815. The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address and other common designation, if any, shown herein. The total amount of the unpaid balance with interest thereon of the obligation secured by the property to be sold plus reasonable estimated costs, expenses and advances at the time of the initial publication of the Notice of Sale is $326,794.28. It is possible that at the time of sale the opening bid may be less than the total indebtedness due. In addition to cash, the Trustee will accept cashier's checks drawn on a state or national bank, a check drawn by a state or federal credit union, or a check drawn by a state or federal savings and loan association, savings association, or savings bank specified in Section 5102 of the Financial Code and authorized to do business in this state. Said sale will be made, in an "AS IS" condition, but without covenant or warranty, express or implied, regarding title, possession or encumbrances, to satisfy the indebtedness secured by said Deed of Trust, advances thereunder, with interest as provided, and the unpaid principal of the Note secured by said Deed of Trust with interest thereon as provided in said Note, plus fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on a property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 1-800-281-8219 or visit this Internet Web site www.recontrustco.com, using the file number assigned to this case 12-0071137. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. DATED: 11/15/2012 RECONTRUST COMPANY, N.A. 1800 Tapo Canyon Rd., CA6-914-01-94 SIMI VALLEY, CA 93063 Phone/Sale Information: (800) 281-8219 By: Trustee's Sale Officer RECONTRUST COMPANY, N.A. is a debt collector attempting to collect a debt. Any information obtained will be used for that purpose. FEI # 1006.244920 4/17, 4/24, 5/01/2013
